July 15, Vacation Sunday Out of the abundance of the heart

Recently, we have come across two quotations from speeches made by supposedly great men of America One is the nominee of the Democratic at a decision.

"I do not believe the Democratic Party should camouflage on this subject. The Democratic Party is a saloon party and everybody knows it is a saloon party, and it ought to come out and say so."

—Alfred E. Smith,
Address New York City.
April 24th., 1922.

"By these experiences (as Secretary of Commerce) I have observed the burdens and responsibilities of the greatest office in the world. That office touches the happiness of every home. It deals with the peace of nations, no man could think of it except in terms of Isolemn consecration."

-Herhert Hoover. Message to Chairman Moses June 1928.

No wonder is it therefore, that last April, the students of thirty-five col-leges and universities, participating in a national poll, gave Hoover an overwhelming majority.

Summer Cottages

built this way are cool and comfortable

In no other way can so much comfort be built into a summer home for so little money as with Celotex Insulating Lumber.

This remarkable lumber, made from the long, tough fibres of cane, does what no ordinary building materials can do. It practically stops heat. It shuts out wind and moisture.

The comfortable coolness of a cottage built with Celotex is a delightful surprise. And if you want to use your cottage late in the season, Celotex will keep it snug and warm.

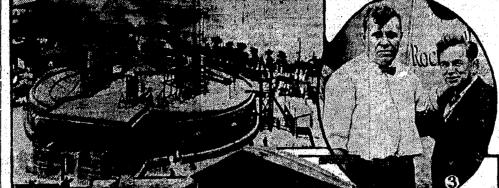

The cost of such a cottage is no more than the cost of one built with good lumber. Celotex is used for both exterior and interior finish. When painted, it will resist the weather quite as well as wood lumber. And it is much stronger in wall sections than wood. The broad, strong Celotex boards are easy to handle and apply. Sawed and nailed as wood lumber.

We sell and recommend Celotex. Ask us for sample and prices.

WINTRAPPRIZES

With the arrival in town of Karl Knudson, contracting agent of the Walter L. Main Gircus, arrangements have been completed with officials and local merchants for the parade and exhibition of this old-time favorite in Grayling and carried away a number of prizes. Altho the day was hot it didn't keep some of our more enthusfastic shooters away. Those from Grayling in attendance were as follow:

Esbern Hanson, Marius Hanson, A. E. Michelson, O. W. Hanson, Carl Mickelson, Holger Hanson, J. W. Hartwick and Nels and Frank Michelson, J. E. Esbern Hanson carried away a He is very emphatic in his denial

Mikeleson, Holger Hanson, J. W. Hartwick, and Nels and Frank Michelson, Jr. Eabern Hanson carried away an intro and 316 in cash; Marius Hanson, a prize the interest of the control of the street and J. W. Hartwick, a cash prize. There was a very good attendance at the short considering the hot weather. Those attending say they were well entertained and thoroughly in wars. pounds.

This was a catch that would gladden the heart of the most expectant fisherman. While Lake Margrethe has been splendid in its fishing, still such catches by one person ien't common. It was a sight to behold that catch when he began unloading the boat.

Mr. Knox only came to Lake Margrethe by accident and hadn't heard much about its fishing. He visited the Military camp on July 1st, while enroute to Mullet lake and incidentially stopped off at the Collen pavilion. He hired a boat and went fishing and in about an hour returned with a Great Northern pike that weighed about five pounds. He immediately rented a boat for a week and certainly had a fine week of fishing.

When they are biting, anyone can catch fish at Lake Margrethe. Experts seem to be able to hook them almost any day. Wm. Powell and son Jerald caught seven bass and one large pike one afternoon. One of the bass, weighed 4½ pounds. Junior Jerome of Lansing recently landed a 40 inch pike that weighed about 17 pounds. No doubt there are other good catches that we haven't heard of-interest and confidence of their prospects. They are of many varieties and with as many kinds of merchandise to sell.

DOES IT PAY?

The summer season, now at hand, brings with it an economic ill that annually takes a toll of thousands of ill gained dollars. It is the itinerant peddler, the house to louse doorbell ringer and those of his kind who travel from place to place plying their trade and imposing on the credulity of the unthinking, offering bargains in this and that which most always turn out to be inferior merchandise sold at higher prices or in short measure. It is well to beware of these fellows and the plausible stories that they tell to engage the interest and confidence of their prospects.

Inferior articles of many kinds are peddled about hither and you during the summer months. The automobile has been a great aid to this kind of chicanery for after he has landed a few gullible prospects a day's journey will take him far away and beyond the reach of the huyer who discovers that he has been victimized.

What better insurance can there be than buying from the home What better insurance can there be than buying from the home town in merchant? If for any reason the article proves unsatisfactory he is ready and willing to correct the trouble and satisfy his customer. Not so with the peddler—he is gone tomorrow or yet today if the chase gets too hot. He is not seeking to satisfy his customer—he is after the money alone. The home town merchant stakes his reputation and his success on his record for fair and honest dealing. He may be found at his place of business day in and day out. There is nothing clusive about him.

Mr. Knudson states that his show will positively parade and exhibit here on the date above mentioned, rain or shine. The parade is at 11 a. m. The doors open at 1 and 7 p. m.

The case was put over to the October term of court.

Two jury civil cases were continued to the next term of court because no jury had been drawn. They were thazen Keene vs. Theodore Callahan and Joseph Belski, and John Malco vs. Charles H. Marker. The action for the Ausselle River indicate that better fishing has prevailed there this spring than in many seasons past. The chancery cases of the American State Bank vs. James E. Kelogg for foreclosure, and Lena M. Clothier vs. Ernest E. Clothier, divorce, were continued to the next term.

A decree of divorce was granted Mary A. Pratt vs. Daniel Pratt. Gladys M. Wilcox was granted temporary alimony, attorney fees and expenses in her bill for divorce vs. Glenn A. Wilcox.

This is surely a wonderful age. The present day war apparatus makes that which was used in the World war seem quite primitive.

On Tuesday night occurred the first night aerial target practice and hundreds of our people went to the grounds to witness it. Released ballons were easy marks to the expert machine gunners and seldom did one escape the shots.

From early morning until late afternoon the men and officers are busy working out problems under direction of able army officers. In order to qualify for a commissioned office in this organization one must do some real studying, especially in the higher is in that part of the city, it is a great wonder that many serious accidents haven't already occurred. We may count ourselves lucky in escaping them. But that does not assure us that we are always going to be so fortunate. The speed limit in town is 20 miles per hour, and it isn't unreasonable to ask drivers to adhere to the law. At least speeding thru the streets should be stopped before someone loses his life or serious accident is done. The time saved by speeding for the short distance thru town is so little that it is hardly worth mentioning. Let's have a little more same driving in the down-town district of the city.

CONTINUE THE SAFETY CAM-PAIGN

Michigan has just concluded a state-wide campaign for safe driving upon the highways. Motorists were asked to see that their cars were in perfect mechanical condition, that they obey the simple rules of the road, to take every precaution that safety and good judgment demanded. This policy closely adhered to, will result in cutting down automobile accidents to a minimum—it will be the means of saving many human lives.

Now that the campaign is ended fries and George L. Burroughs of much is left to each individual motor-ceived by the U.S. Department of Agriculture regarding the Chinchilla rabbit, it has published recently a 6-page leaflet, No. 22-L, "Chinchilla Rabbits for Food and Fur." This is avaliable for free distribution.

Overgrazing within timbered areas results in considerable damage to the young trees, according to the Forest Service, When other vegetation becomes dry and tough, tree reproduction may be badly damaged unless there is more desirable browse on the Alfalfa and clover are among the best pasture crops for sheep. Because of the great danger of bloating, however, sheep should never be turned on such pastures when wet with dew or rain. Moreover, sheep should be accustomed to clover or alfalfa pasture gradually by giving them a full feed of blue grass pasture or legume hay before turning them on the new pasture. The danger from bloating seems to vary with different sections of the country, so that the accumulated experience of a neighborhood is usually better advice on the subject of bloating than are general recommendations from outside sources.

Proprietary remedies, given to poultry either as medicine or mixed with feed, or water, are of no use whatever in controlling external parasites, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Practical tests carried on by the department, by dosing fowls with a large number of different internal medicines, show without doubt that not only do these internal "remedies" fail to control the lice and mites, but they often decrease the vitality of the fowls and thus render them easier to the parasites. No such short cuts should be attempted; the standard control recommendations of the department should be followed. These are supplied free to interested persons.

Grasshoppers attacking soy beans may be destroyed by a common poison-bran bait. The species of gras hoppers injurious to soy beans are the same that attack alfalfa, such as the red-legged, lesser migra-tory, and differential grasshoppers. They are more likely to cause serious damage on soy beans in semiarid secdamage on soy beans in semanta sec-tions, but during dry summers they may multiply sufficiently to cause serious injury wherever beans are grown. A good bait may be made of 50 pounds of wheat bran, 2 pounds of 60 pounds of wheat bran, 2 pounds of Paris green or crude arsenic, 1 rallon of molasses, 6 gallons of water, and 1½ ounces of amyl acetate. The poison and bran should be thoroughly mixed while dry, and the molasses and water stirred together and the amyl acetate added to this liquid. The bran-mixture should be thoroughly wet with this liquid, but not so wet that it cannot be easily distributed. The bait should be broadcast thinly and evenly; if distributed in lumps there is danger of poisoning to livestock. About 8 or 10 pounds (wet weight) are needed to an acre, the best time of day for distribution being the early morning. being the early morning.

the Love Deadline.

By H. L. MENCKEN

Doctor Durant's observation that o rational man ever falls in love after thirty is surely not new. I printed it in a book called "In Defense of will find it, if you search hard enough, in Shakespeare, and Shakespeare, i have no doubt, borrowed it from an Italian who had cabbaged it from the Greeks. By reiterating it in various forms, some of them voluptuous and others indignant, George Bernard Shaw has earned at least $35,000, by my estimate, since the year 1886. And it is still good for an occasional outfit of lecturer's gauds for Durant, and a case of Assmannsbaueser Hinterkirch Auslese 1921 for me.

But, like all other truths, it is not to be taken too literally. I have seen men of thirty-five magnificently in love, and full of a fine, flerce pride in the fact. But these same men also wrote poetry, and believed that a couole of quinine pills, taken before go or quining pins, taken before going to bed, would cure a cold. In other words, they were excessively romantic, which is to say, bainy Durant, I suppose, referred to more retional fellows, as I did in my book, and the Greeks long before either of us. Such rational fellows can no more fall in love, in the full romantic sense, than a dry congressman can resist a drink. Their very incupacity for it, indeed, is one of the chief proofs of their rationality. For this romantic love, when all is said and done, is simply nonsense, and hence not worth much mourning. Its cause, I am informed by agents in the medical colleges, is an ebullition of the hormones; its effects are indistinguishable from those of a somewhat prolonged and injudicious jag.

The victim, looking at black, sees white. The lady who has knocked him off, seen through his glazed eyes, becomes an amaigam of dorence Nightingule, Marie Antoinette, Lola Montez, Edith Cavell, Grace Darling and the tenth and best wife of Bel-shazzar, king of Babylon. His view of her, in the sight of all other persons is upt to seem comical. And when he marries her, he commonly finds that it is painfully erroneous. Very few early marriages are genuinely happy. They may last, but so do gallstones last. I add politely that what is pain for the gander is probably agony for the goose. though the romantic love described in the works of the standard poets is thus mainly a function of youth, and cannot survive into actual maturity, I see no reason why a man sliding into the fortles should not marry satisfactorily, and make a good husband. His illusions may be gone, but if the lady he claps his eye on is fined in a Paris court $6,000 for an really charming there may be a great accident caused by another woman many soothing realities. The plain fact is that many females of the human species are lovely, and that their loveliness survives even the inresest of specific plays. They make prefix pley putting on the brakes or turning the tovetiness survives even the harsbest of spotlights. They make pretty pictures, especially when competently made up. The have alimble wits, and are amusing. They know how to be agreeable. They are tolerantly cyulcal, and do not expect too much either of Gad or of much expect too much the control of the co are amusing. They know how to be agreeable. They are tolerantly cyntical, and do not expect too much either of God or of man. I can ensity imagine even the most hard-boiled of men failing for such a wench. In fact, I have seen them fail—and observed them happy afterward.

This, to be sure, is not romantic tove. It is not idealistic. It sees nothing that is not actually there. But, as I say, what is there may be very charming. If it is, then it is apt to last. For charm is almost as durable as gallstenes. It is no more af nuction of mere youth that. It is a figment of illusion. The genuinely charming woman remains charming at sixty. She can no more fade, in any real sense, than a diamond can fade. It is not necessary to fall in love with such a woman in order to appreciate her. Appreciating her is a function, not of the hormones, but of function, not of the hormones, but of the higher cerebral centers. In other words, it is a function of men beyond

As for women, I don't believe that they ever fall in love at all. They are far too intelligent to do it. When one hears of a woman falling wildly in love with a movie actor, or a gypsy violinist, or the curate of the parish, one simply bears of a woman who is trying to bring the darling of her heart to terms. Let him show the proper signs of disturbance, and she will promptly forget poor Jack Gil-bert. No woman above the intellectual grade of a calvaryman or a cock-roach ever yields herself completely to romantic illusion. In even the prettiest fellow, when she has looked at him seriously, she sees a good husband. (2) 1828, by the Bell Syndicate, [be.)

Recently completed surveys have shown that corporations are paying more and more attention to various thrift and welfare plans among their employes. This does not refer to any charitable activities but means instances where employing corporations assist those on their payrolls to make personal financial progress.

This idea is being carried out in various ways. East Michigan State Park and Game Refuge Is Military Reservation; Great Mecca For Summer Tourists

One of the finest military reserves in the country and one which attracts regiments from other states for their son Military Reservation, located just out of Grayling, in the heart of the summer resort section of East Michigan. This immense 18 000 acre tract, which surrounds beautiful Lake Margrethe, was a gift to the State of Michigan from Rasmus Hanson, a pio neer lumberman of Grayling. gift was made to the state as a military encampment grounds but a provision makes it also a game refuge, and it is listed as a Michigan state park. It is the largest state park in Michigan, being one of sixty-three, thirty-four of which are located at strategic points in East Michigan.

The Reservation is topographically ideal for military maneuvers and the lake, together with the pure air of Crawford County augment the natur al attractiveness of the environment. One of the hills on the Reservation is said to be the highest point in the lower peninsula of Michigan.

The unusual location of the reser sibility make it a delightful place for In recent years military organizations of other states have been attracted to it, and in 1927 the 202nd Coast Artillery, of Chicago, passed a two weeks training period at the Hanson Military Reservation. This organization is returning to the encampment grounds again this year.

Colonel Charles J. Kraft, of the 202nd Coast Artillery, of Chicago, enthusiastically acclaimed this camp as Grayling

FORCED SALES

By THOMAS ARKUE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THINK of all the selemen who comupon one unexpectedly and try to persuade one to buy, the book agent persuade one to buy, the book agent through all time has been the most unpopular. I suppose the reason is that few people have any innate longing for books and especially for such books as the salesiman going from door to door is trying to dispose of. If he is to be successful he must first create an interest and a desire and then attempt to satisfy it. This requires tact, knowledge of human mature and a knowledge of human nature and how it is influenced, and, of course, persistence, and this last quality is ordinarily all that the wandering salesman of books has developed. If he succeeds in making a sale it is usually a forced sale. Webster was telling me not long ago something of his experience while in college. He went out during his summer vacation to sell books. He had never had any experience before and he knew nothing of salesmanship excepting to hang on when he got hold of a prospective customer. The territory to which he was assigned was a pretty barren rural community in which the drought of summer bade fair to wine out the corn crop.

The book he was trying to sell had no particular merit. The people to whom he was attempting to sell it did not want it, if they were persuaded to buy it in order to get rid of Webster it would most probably lie with the family Bible on the center table in the sitting room unread and useless. Anyway they could not afford to buy it and Webster knew this as he looked about him better possibly than any one else. When he succeeded in making a forced sale he felt as if he had robbed an orphan asylum or sand bagged a blind man. Webster got away with the job, however. He hung on and haggled and argued the ques-tion until in sheer desperation his vic-

Recently I have been receiving a great many postcards from farmers in the district, recommending an in-crease in tariff duties on agricultural commodities that compete with Amer. commodities that compete with American farm products, and am heartily in sympathy with the views expressed therein. The American farmer has the to contend with and many handicaps in bringing forth a satisfactory crop. He is compelled to buy whatever he purchases in an American market at the American price, and certainly he is entitled to the American market and the American price for his commodities. I believe that if we place our tariff rates high enough on these products, American prices will prevail for the things the farmer produces. This principle has been applied successfully in favor of business and industry which have propered marvelously, and in my opinion there is no reason why Agriculture should not be similarly benefitted by a high tariff on its products.

Hour after hour, the Pontiac Six reels off the miles with safety for its passengers and itself. Its sturdy Fisher bodies -- its rugged construction-its big, four-wheel brakes . . . these are comfort of passengers at all times.

As for the car itself, a full-pressure oiling system lubricates moving engine parts. And such advancements as crankcase ventilation and the thermostatically controlled cross-flow radiator protect it from the wear and tear of sustained high speeds.

Today's Pontiac is one low-priced six which needs no pampering. Its record proves its ability to travel wide open mile after mile.

Medieval Versus Modern Student Life

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

PROFESSOR ROBERT F. SEYBOLT of the University of Illinois has just made a translation of a series of school dialogues written by one Peter Schade, professor of Greek in the University of Leipzig in 1517.
These paragraphs are not intended as a review of the book but simply to show how little the point of view of the modern student has changed from that held by students four hundred years ago. They employed the same tricks in Leipzig in the early Sixteenth century as are employed today—they had much the same round of amusements, the same critical attitude toward their teachers and the courses of study they were required to pursue, and got into scholastic and moral difficulties similar to those the modern Middle West student of today encounters. Translated into present day vernacular the students at Leiprig in 1500 might very well have been walking up John street at the University of Illinois, or in front of the University of Illinois are not front of the University of Illinois, or in front of the University of Illinois, or in front of the University of Illinois, or in front of the University of Illinois and Illinois of Illinoi um or picking to pieces the last lec ture in Latin 15.

"What are you going to do tonight?" one undergraduate asks another

"Oh! go to a show, I suppose." "Anything new in town?"

"Same old stuff we've been used to you know the kind. You'd better comand go along."

"I'd like to but I'm broke."

"Oh! we can beat our way in. I know the door man, and he'll let us

These aren't the exact words, but put into Twentieth century language the meaning is the same. Pleasur and pull were as much in the young fellow's mind then as now.

There was discussion on the food were getting, which was evidently considerably more manger they than now, for the medieval student had little ready money to spend on anything and depended largely on chance or charity for something to There was discussion of the landlady who was not always to the liking of her lodgers, and there was as much interest in the liristmas holiday as there is today among those undergraduates who, no matter how long the vacation may be, always make a strenuous effort to have it longer. "This is the day when the commit tee on discipline meets," one boy says to another as they are walking along the street.

"What do they do?" the other inquires, being newly arrived and not familiar with college customs.

"They bring you to trial for violating some of the college regulations and fire you if you are guilty."

"How can they know what we do ey surely are not so wise." "Ohl they have spies who follow as around, see what we do, and then report to the faculty."

The statement probably had as much basis of truth then as it has today, or had when I was in college and heard the same things said. No undergraduate has ever given a professor credit for intelligence enough to know what was going on in under graduate life unless some one told him

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Two Italians Fly From Rome to Brazil, Establishing New Distance Record.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD TWO Italian aviators, Captain Fer-rarin and Major Del Prete, starting from Rome in a Flat-motored Savols monuplane, beaded for South America on a nonstop flight, reached Brazil In safety, establishing a new record. When they landed near Port Natal they had flown about 4,485 miles, bettering the distance record of 8,000 miles made by Chamberlin and Levine by about 576 miles. These aviators aiready held the duration flight rec-ord of 58 hours, 38 minutes and 26 seconds. When the flyers passed over St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, approximately 3,000 miles from Rome, they had been up 22 hours with the remarkable average of more than 135 miles an hour. They made the 1,600 miles from there across the south Atlantic ocean at almost equal speed. On the way they were in radio communication with the steamship Philarus and said all was well with them. The flight was made under the auspices of the Italian military aviation service.

O Nic of the extraordinary tragedles of aviation occurred last week over the North sea. Capt. Alfred Loew cler and rated as one of the wealthiest men in the world, disappeared from his Fokker plane in which he was crossing from Croydon, England, to Brussels. It was believed that he had mistaken the door by which passengers left the plane for the one to the washroom, and, opening the former, stepped off into space and fell into

to be only less than that of Henry

Ford and the Rockefellers.
He controlled steamship lines, was one of the chief stockholders in the Belgian railway system, owned manganese fron mines in Silesia, steel furnaces in the north of Spain, coal Ruhr, and immense rubber plantations in the Congo. Two years ago he startled the world by offering the Belgian government a loan of $50,000,000 for two years without interest in or-der that the Belgian franc might be stabilized. The offer was refused. Shortly after this he offered to lend France a like amount at interest of 2 per cent. Quite recently Captain Loewenstein spent several weeks in the United States and Canada on business. traveling most of the time by airplane. He was an enthusiast on aviation and owned a number of blg planes which were equipped with office desks and carried a staff of secretaries so be could work while flying.

Immediately after the capitalist's disappearance was reported there were rumors that he had committed suicide because of financial embarrassment following his recent failures to obtain large loans. These stories were denied and were succeeded by reports that he was secretly landed in France from his plane and had been met by an automobile which took him to a place of retreat. On European stock exchanges the Loewenstein shares fell rapidly.

S ECRETARY OF COMMERCE HOOVER spent Independence day in rest and quiet recreation, but gave up the rest of the week to prepara tions for his departure from Washington, winding up with a conference on Saturday with prominent eastern Re publicans for the purpose of establish ing a campaign organization in that section of the country. It was an nounced that Mr. Hoover would deliver his resignation from the cubinet to President Coolidge at the summer White House on the Brule river. Further than that his plans were not made public. His notification and speech of acceptance will be made in California, the first week in August.
Governor Smith made two speeches on the Fourth of July, one at Tammany hall and the other from the steps of the city hall in New York city, but in both of them he avoided partisan politics, making only passing allusion to his pomination for the Presidency. Then he went to Albany to attend to state business. His plans called for a campaign conference with Senator Robinson, his running mate and the Democratic national committee this week. Governor Smith also will be notified of his nomination early in August, and it is asserted that in his speech of acceptance he will make a further pronouncement on his position in the matter of prohibition. then he declined to reply to Josephus Daniels, who, while calling on all Dem ocrats to support Smith, said Al had not been given any leadership by the Democratic party to seek to change the Volstend act and that any at tempts to weaken the prohibition laws nust be fought in congress.

Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcohol and a leader in the Anti-Saloon league, tssued a summons to all friends of prohibition to unite all friends of prohibition to unite against Smith, asserting that the coun-try faces "what promises to be the greatest wet and dry battle that the nation has ever seen." National Prohibition party chiefs seemed to be at outs as to the party's national conven tion called for July 10 and 11 in Chicago. Some desired to nominate some prominent dry Democrat, preferably from the South, while others believed it would be best to indorse Hoover. The Anti-Saloon league, scheduled to hold a convention in Asheville, N. C., at the same time, was said not to be co-operating at all with the Prohibi-

there is dissension among the drys, there is still greater disagree-ment among the men who profess to be the leaders of the Middle-West farmers. Gov. Adam McMullen, Re-publican, of Nebraska; George N Peek, chairman of the corn belt com mittee formed in 1926, and some others declared the Democratic plank on farm relief was eatlefactory to agriculturists and far reperior to the Republican ideas, and they prodicted the corn belt furniers would vote for Smith. A counterblust came promptly from Benstor Brookharf and Governor Hammill of lows, who accused Peek of louble crossing Lowden and denied the assertions that the farmers were going Democratic. Meanwhile men who think they know the mind of the farmer continus to assert that those who have been Republicans in the past will support Hoover, and those who have been Democratic will cast their votes for Smith.

JEAN LAUSSIER, thirty-six years, old, a French Canadian salesman from Springfield, Mass., achieved notoriety and perhaps fame last week by going over Niagara falls in a rubber and steel ball designed by himself. Tuken from the river a few hundred feet below the cataract, he was found to be uninjured beyond a few bruises on face and shoulders. He was the third person to perform this feat and live. The others were Bobble Leach and Annie Edson Taylor, both of whom sier's rubber ball was eleven feet in diameter. Inside the outer covering was a canvas fining. Then came a steel framework and another canvas lining, and inside all a harness-like arrangement in which the occupant strapped himself. He carried in tanks enough oxygen to keep him alive forty GERMANY'S model of a treaty for strengthening the means of preventing war was adopted by the comulttee on security and arbitration of the League of Nations in Geneva, and was ordered sent to all governments in preparation for a general discussion of the subject at the September assembly of the league. The essence of the so-called German treaty is that the vance to accept the recommendations of the league council in the case of a threat of war and to refrain from measures likely to aggravate the dis pute. Its object is the same as that of the proposed Kellogg pact—namely: the outlawry of war.

C HIEF feature of the celebration of the Fourth of July by Americans in Paris was the dedication of the beautiful triumphal arch in Parc Villeneuve L'Etang in memory of 67 young American members of the Latayette Escadrille who fell in the service of France. Paul Painleve, minister of war, delivered the address to a great throng that included Ambas-sador Herrick, Marshai Foch and other notables. Ten French army planes droned overhead and as the last salute was fired and taps blown, tribute was paid to each grave in the marble-lined crypt, where the dead birdmen lie four by four in the order in which they Americans in Shaughai had as part of their celebration a Wild West rodeo given by the marines, the first ever seen in the Orient. Czecho slovakia made the day, which was also the tenth anniversary of its own in-dependence, the occasion for the dedif of a monument to Woodrow Vitson in Prague.

CROATIA'S threats of demanding complete separation from Serbia because of the killing of two Croatian deputies in the parliament resulted in the resignation of the Yugo-Sjavian government. The king began negotia tions with party leaders with a view to forming a coalition government that would satisfy the demands of Croatia Bosula and Herzegovina for equal rep resentation with Serbia. Italy an nounced that she would refuse to accept the ratification of the disputed Nettuno treaty unless it was approved by the Croatian deputies.

"The exact date of the final agreement remains vague, but matters have progressed so far that all parties concerned are convinced that a definite debt settlement is not only desirable, but also possible."

Lansing, July 9.—The pulp wood indutsry both in Michigan and other states and even in Canada has taken an interest in the work that is being accomplished by the Economic Land Survey Division of the Department of Conservation. An expert from a Canadian company recently visited the Department to scan some of the maps that are already available. He found that he could determine almost exactly where pulpwood was now available in Michigan and how much would be ready for marketing in years to come. Pulpwood timber grows rapidly so the companies are interested in learning the nature of the land, its extent and the type of growth thereon. All this information and much more is contained on the maps being turned out.

It's all over and the boys are back home rubbing their eyes and wonderhave been a dream. The trip to Van-Ettan lake lodge will go down in the history of Michigan Press Associa-tion outings as one of the best ever held by the association.

Rain and more rain could not dampen the spirit of so genial a group of folks gathered from every corner of Michigan to celebrate and "just have a good time." In fact it helped to bring them into closer social contact and each went home knowing that he knew "Peck," Mack, Bill. Art, Sam, etc., and their respec-tive families just a little more intimately than he had ever known them

It was a great old session that "Peck" Prescott, Bill McGillivray and W. L. Chappelle engineered and the entourage (if that means ody) was unanimous in voting everybody) was unanimous in voting Frank G. Cowley, the smiling host at Van Eitan lodge, their thanks and the appreciation of the association.

You'd never suspect Mr. Cowley. whose hospitality was unlimited, was in charge of the entire estate with that their guests could never at any time have cause for even the slightest complaint.

It was Thursday morning when the "delegates" began arriving in earnest, although an advanced guard had come to the hotel on Wednesday. Thursday proved a fine day for the trip, a few running into rain in the

Every one of the even from the winning of Field Manager Len W. Feighner's trophy to the bait casting contest had its "high spots" and thrills aplenty. A large gallery attended all events, part of which took place in the hotel and the rest on the "drive." Excellent prizes had been donated for the affair and helped to swell the list of contestants.

Next Year's Outing

The newspaper folks of the Up-per Peninsula want the M. P. A. to come to their domain for the 1929 summer outing. We ought to accept, for two reasons: One is that they want us to come, the other is that there is so much about the upper peninsula that the lower peninsula newspaper men ought to see and know. The upper peninsula is not only a variety per peninsula is not only a vas domain, but a greatly diversified and intensely interesting one. A tour of the great north land would not only be jolly fun, but would be an eye-opener to most of us.

vessels through the otherwise unmarked expanses of Lake Huron. A climb to the "light" gave an interesting panorama of the surrounding countryside and lake. Captain Tice and his men braved the heat of a scorching sun to go into "action" for the weekly publishers. An imaginary stranded ship was located on the beach and the rope for the rescue equipment was fired over the spar by use of a small cannon. This has a range of a quarter of a mile and is used to take passengers off the boats when the sea is too rough for life boats. President W. H. Berkey, Cassopolis, and R. E. Prescott, Lincoln, submitted to being "saved" when the resuscitation tests for drowning were demon-strated. Each survived without serious injuries with the exception of Pres. Berkey claiming the misplace ment of a floating rib.

Following a sumptuous dinner—and such meals, (we have never eaten better)-the Consumers Power tour to the Au Sable river dams was in order. The power company had graciously provided two of their in-structors, W. E. Jacobs and G. L. Jonsen to conduct the party composed of 12 cars along the scenic river. Foote, Cooke and Five Channels dams were visited. No finer scenery can one imagine than the dune country of the Au Sable where mountains of white sand, green forests and a mighty harnessed river blend into one picture. And what a picture! Words cannot adequately describe the Au Sable. Winding through high hills which are rapidly being reforested the great tumbling river has been made into a series of beautiful lakes.

It is 105 miles by river from the first dam at Mio to the last one known as Foote. The Mio dam has a 25 foot head and its back waters cover 700 acres; Alcona is 50 miles downstream, forms a thousand acre lake and a 50 foot head; Loud is 19 miles below and its 28 foot head backs the river over 600 acres; Five Channels is a brief 3½ miles away, its lake covering 550 acres; Cooke has a 1900 acre pond, 42 foot head and is 16 miles by river from Five Channels; Foote is naturally the "lower end," no matter how it is spelled. It forms a 1000 acre body of water and has a 32 foot head.

The theoretical head for all the dams from Mio to Foote would be 378.6 feet and the working capacity is little short of that for the dams. Here, a brief step from the jack pine the greatest power units in the state. The electrical energy, generated by the mad rush of the cold waters from

The Feminine Viewpoint

The VanEttan Lake outing was a decided success in the eyes of the wives and daughters of the Michigan Press, judging from the enthusiasm which they displayed and the enjoy ment with which they entered into all the activities of the week end.

Many of the mothers brought thei children along and the children became acquainted and enjoyed them selves immensely. The Chet Howells brought their four interesting chil- to be the only enthusiastic fisherdren with them. The mothers that left their children at home had the joy of recounting the recent achievements of their youngsters to their friends. Saturday the party drove to Sturgeon Point where a coast guard sta-tion was visited. Most everyone climbed the light-house and enjoyed breeches buoy which is used in bringing passengers ashore from ship-wrecks. Mrs. Rich and Miss Jashnow also enjoyed a ride in this novel conveyance.

So the three days passed all too quickly for the women members of the party—with visiting, playing bridge, swimming, hiking, playing golf and dancing every one felt that this summer meeting had been worth

The boat has been on the bottom of Lake Solitude for decades-perhaps centuries-that old hulk of rolling, rotting upper timbers immersed in a cobwebby atmosphere of antiquity. The pioneers who came to the shores of Solitude ninety years ago snores of software interty years ago saw it and wondered. Historians have wondered ever since. Tourists from every state in the Union, from pro-vinces of Canada, from European countries and even from the Orient. ntrigued by the romance of the mys-ery, annually visit the isolated lake. No one has positively ascertained what ship it was that rests upon Sol-itude's bottom, or how it came to be in this inland lake. A sixty-foot vessel never sailed into Lake Solitude by way of the two-foot wide creek, bot-tomed with muck. It was a derelict before white men settled in Michigan and there is no living person who has been able to tear away the shroud of marine mystery surrounding it.

The waters of the lake have receded and the deck has rotted away, but the keel is said to be still intact, under the water, despite the constant attrition of lake waters, winds, ice and storms.

The explanation? Here is the only logical one, given some credence by historians.

Vessel Built in 1679

The story starts in that epoch of derring do when English, French and Portuguese adventurers, explorers and voyageurs, impelled by the then human motives of conquest, discovery and regal reward, sailed the known and unknown seas seeking new worlds, gold, Arcadias and fountains of youth.

Nearly 250 years ago, when the day in 1679 congealed the marrow of the most hardy, a little band of approximately thirty men toiled wearily through the plains and baked forests on the hazardous and difficult portage around Niagara Falls. up the gallant and intrepld company which followed La Salie into the water wilderness of the Great Lakes. these timbers into the first igan up to the present time. On the vessel's prow was in the country.

ed so valiantly ended in tragedy—and Lake Solitude is small and has no connection with any body of water except through a narrow two-foot stream that trickles into Tawas Bay Griffin made port at St. Ignace, where Father Marquette had established a mission eight years before. It cleared Michillimackinac for Green Bay September 2, where it took on a cargo of rich furs for La Salles creditors in Montreal. La Salle sent the Griffin back to Niagara Falls while he continued on in canoes to Lake Peoria, Ill. The Gaffin was lost in a storm and never heard of again unless, perhaps, the wreck which lies in the waters of Lake Solitude is that of the ill-omened craft. The fate of the Ar-

conauts is unknown. Great Inland Sea Covered Areas

Lake Huron probably extended far-ther inland than the three-quarters of a mile of high timbered ridges which now separates it from Lake Solitude. It is definitely known that at one time what is now the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan was covered by a great inland sea, and undoubtedly Lake Solitude is what geologists call a newland lake. So it is not impossible that the hulk of the Griffin was tossed upon the shores and the water later receded, leaving only a small lake. Pieces of metal salvaged from the old boat are of ancient workmanship. As recently as 1900, skeletons were found in the vicinity of the boat, one with a sword thrust through it, which after much cleaning proved to bear the French Lilies and French motto and a sixteenth century date.

If the boat was the Griffin what romance hovers about the decayed old derelict? What history lies there in the salvaging? All those who know the truth perished with the Griffin.

And every summer, thousands of tourists visit Lake Solitude, described by one author tourist as "a spot too poetic for anything but a honeymoon," to dream about the ancient sailing vessel lying under the lake's surface, resisting the disintegrating process that always follows in the wake of disaster and neglect and which typi-fies to the visiting tourist from every section of the country the valorous and indomitable spirit of those voyageurs of old who first planted the cross and civilization in this great

THE LONGEST SUSPENSION BRIDGE IN THE WORLD LINKING DETROIT AND THE CANADIAN BORDER CITIES

an Ennouncement-

To the People of the Commonwealths of Canada and the United States—in Particular to the Citizens of the State of Michigan and the Province of Ontario

Bridge across the Detroit River will be open for traffic in mid-summer of 1929. So many people (individuals and corporations) have asked the question, "when will the new bridge be ready?"—that it has been considered policy to publish from time to time a summary of the progress being achieved—an abridgment of the bridge. As most of the inquiries have come from firms and various enterprises planning to use the new bridge in the daily transaction of their business, this data is released July 11, 1928.

At the present rate of progress, the Ambassador International Bridge will be open to traffic in the mid-summer of 1929.

The mild and open winter permitted unexpected progress in constructing the foundations for the steel towers and anchorages. Now that the work below ground is completed it is possible to schedule with confidence the time required for the remaining steps in construction, based on the experience with other large suspension bridges recently constructed.

The anchorage for the cables on both sides of the river are made of solid masses of concrete equal in height to a twenty-two story building, of which the equivalent of fourteen stories will be below ground and eight above. On the American side the anchorage is located at West Jefferson Avenue and 21st Street in Detroit. On the Canadian side, at London and Huron Line Road in Sandwich.

The massive steel tower on the American side is now complete. The Canadian tower will be completed July 20th. These towers extend to a height of 383 feet above the Detroit River and may be compared in height with the new Buhl Building.

The preparatory work for weaving the large suspension cables will start the first part of August, at which time eight temporary cables will be stretched from anchorage to anchorage and over the tops of the steel towers. Foot bridges will be built on these temporary cables and the work of constructing the large cables, consisting of stretching over 14,000 single wires from anchorage to anchorage, will be done from the foot bridge cables.

All of the property for the project, including that required for the approaches and terminals on both sides of the river, has been acquired

Both the Canadian and American Governments have approved the general arrangements for the inspection by Customs and Immigration Officers. To meet these requirements it was necessary to provide an area of about seven acres on the American side and more than eight acres on the Canadian side. On the Detroit side all the land between Howard, Porter, 21st and 22nd Streets was necessarily acquired for this purpose. On the Canadian side a strip one-half block wide, extending along Patricia Road from Wyandotte to Walnut Streets, together with more than the equivalent of a city block area between Patricia and Huron Church Line Roads, has been acquired in the Town of Sandwich.

THE TERMINAL spaces required by the Governments on each side of the River may appear unduly large, but a detailed study of the needs proved the necessity of providing room for Administration Buildings for Bridge Officers, Customs and Immigration Officers, for Warehouses, Excise Buildings and thirteen inspection "islands" at both ends of the bridge. Here traffic in twenty-six lanes may be examined simultaneously.

TOLLS—These necessarily can only be definitely established contemporaneously with the opening of the bridge for public traffic, but it is our pleasure to announce that in no event will single trip tickets for other than commercial vehicles be in excess of fifty cents (50c) including driver and five cents (5c) for each additional passenger.

The maximum rates for busses and commercial vehicles of various weights will be announced later.

Commutation tickets will be sold, and it is contemplated that commutation rates will be substantially lower than the rate to be established for single trip tickets.

More than fifty years of the white man's effort to bridge this stream are culminating now in the building of this bridge.
